Construction Projects

Established over 40 years ago, our family-run business has established long term relationships with many reputable construction firms operating in Cork County and City. We are proud to be their construction materials supplier of choice for a variety of prestigious construction projects.

WHY BUILD WITH KEOHANE READYMIX?

Our success is built on our established reputation for manufacturing and supplying high quality construction materials, matched only by our commitment to providing the highest standards of service.

Premier Inn Hotel, Cork City

Premier Inn Hotel, Cork City

Premier Inn Hotel Cork City Centre is located at Morrison's Quay overlooking the south channel of the River Lee on a site that once housed the famous Moore's Hotel. In a sensitive redevelopment of the heritage location, the new Premier Inn hotel was constructed alongside three own-door office buildings fronting onto the quay. Keohane Readymix supplied the readymix concrete, blocks and aggregates to main contractor Elliott Group on this prestigious project.

"We were very happy to work with Keohane Readymix on the Premier Inn project in Cork City Centre. Throughout the entirety of the project, Keohane Readymix demonstrated professionalism, reliability, and quality in their services as well as excellent customer service and support. We highly recommend Keohane Readymix to any construction project seeking reliable and high-quality concrete solutions and we look forward to working with them again in the future."

Gerard McCaffrey | Group Head of Procurement, Elliott Group

Agri Construction Project, Innishannon

Agri Construction Project, Innishannon, Co. Cork

Drawing on years of experience working with farmers in County Cork, Keohane Readymix Construction provides a turnkey Agri Construction service from initial advice and consultancy through to completion of project. Using supplies of materials from our own quarries, we can guarantee the highest quality finish at a competitive rate, on time and on budget.

“A trusted partner in our business, Keohane’s expertise and experience in agricultural builds has been instrumental in driving our farm developments. Their recommendations and advice on our new animal housing project from conception to completion has been invaluable. The quality of their products and workmanship is of the highest standard. I wouldn’t hesitate to recommend them for farm construction projects.”

Ciaran O’Sullivan | Farmer, Innishannon, Co. Cork.

Large-Scale Logistics Warehouse, Little Island, Cork

Keohane Readymix was contracted by Summerhill Construction to supply the aggregates, blocks and large pours of readymix concrete required for construction of this large-scale logistics warehouse in Courtstown, Little Island, Co. Cork.

Large-Scale Logistics Warehouse, Little Island

“A family business like Keohane’s is a rarity in the construction industry today. We’ve used Keohane’s for supplies of materials for many years and on numerous construction projects, including the Courtstown Little Island Project. We choose to work with Keohane’s for their personal approach, attention to detail and exemplary service, in addition to the quality products we know we can rely on. We share the same vision of delivering projects efficiently, effectively, and to the highest industry standards.”

Dan O’Sullivan | MD, Summerhill Construction, Cork.

Large-Scale Logistics Warehouse, Little Island

Keohane Readymix worked in close co-operation with Consol Concrete to complete the laying of a vast concrete floor for the warehouse.

“Consol Concrete specializes in mass concrete floors using Laser Screeds. As the sub-contractor responsible for laying and levelling large concrete pours on construction sites around Cork County, we are always happy to see the arrival of Keohane Readymix trucks to site. We were delighted to partner with them on the Courtstown Little Island Project. Their quality and service are second to none which makes our lives that little bit easier. Very happy to recommend them.”
